December 22, 2018

Starting 2019 off with the right things to help keep a positive state of mind and inspired looks like it is going to be easier than ever. Artist and photographer the ultra-creative Anita Leite-Sander of Leite Creations is stepping up to help, celebrating the January 1st, 2019 launch of her new “The Be Bold Collection” intended to motivate, inspire, and deliver infectious positive energy. The new collection has been being looked to by Leite Creations' fans with a great deal of enthusiasm.

“It's time to be adventurous,” commented Leite-Sander. “None of us want to live a boring life, day in and day out. Our new collection is designed to help push people forward and out of their comfort zone into a world packed with fun, opportunity, and even romance!”

According to the online shop, “The Be Bold Collection” is highlighted by digital prints, canvas, tote bags, backpacks, one piece swimsuits, bikinis, duvets, pencil skirts, jewelry, and mugs. All made with an intense eye to detail and carrying the message of both Leite Creations in general and the new collection in particular. Leite-Sander's past collections have won praise and this may be the most impressive yet.

The online shop is currently offering a 20% discount code to anyone who joins their email list by filling out a quick form on the Leite Creations website.

Feedback for past collections has been completely positive.

Jason S., from New York, recently said in a five-star review, “I need some inspirational photos in my office and in my room where people make sales calls to help keep their spirits high. I ordered from Leite Creations and everything I received was totally perfect. I will be ordering from their next collection for sure.”
